IV. Grammar Explanation

1. plain form そうです I hear that ...

This is an expression for conveying information you have obtained from another source without adding your own point of view. When the source of the information is given, it is indicated by ～によると (according to ～), placed at the beginning of the sentence.

① 天気予報によると、あしたは寒くなるそうです。

According to the weather forecast, it will be cold tomorrow.

② クララさんは子どものとき、フランスに住んでいたそうです。

I heard that Klara lived in France when she was a child.

③ バリ島はとてもきれいだそうです。

I hear that Bali is very beautiful.

[Note 1] Note that this expression is different in meaning and construction from ～そうです used for describing an apparent state that you learned in Lesson 43. Compare the following sentences.

④ 雨が降りそうです。

It looks like rain. (L. 43)

⑤ 雨が降るそうです。

I heard that it will rain.

⑥ この料理はおいそうです。

This food looks delicious. (L. 43)

⑦ この料理はおいしいそうです。

I heard that this food is delicious.

[Note 2] The difference between ～そうです (expression of hearsay) and ～と 言って いました (L. 33):

⑧ ミラーさんはあした京都へ行くそうです。

I hear that Mr. Miller is going to Kyoto tomorrow.

⑨ ミラーさんはあした京都へ行くと 言っていました。

Mr. Miller said that he is going to Kyoto tomorrow.

In example ⑨ the information source is Mr. Miller himself, while in example ⑧ it is highly possible that the information source is not necessarily Mr. Miller but somebody else. Another difference is that in example ⑨ the words which Mr. Miller said can be quoted directly or indirectly. In example ⑧ on the other hand, only the plain form may be used.

V	plain form	} ようです
い-adj
な-adj	plain form ~だ→~な
N	plain form ~だ→~の

It seems that ...

～ようです conveys the speaker's subjective conjecture, which is based on the information obtained through his/her sensory organs.

A sentence that ends in ようです sometimes accompanies どうも which suggests the speaker cannot be certain if what he/she is saying is a fact.

⑩ 人が 大勢 集まっていますね。

…事故のようですね。パトカーと 救急車が 来て いますよ。

Look, there is a big crowd.

…It looks like there's been an accident. A patrol car and an ambulance are there.

⑪ せきも 出るし、頭も 痛い。どうも かぜを ひいたようだ。

I have a cough and a headache. It looks like I've caught a cold.

[Note] The difference between ～そうです (L. 43, describing an apparent state) and ～ようです:

⑫ ミラーさんは 忙しいそうです。

Mr. Miller seems to be busy. (L. 43)

⑬ ミラーさんは 忙しいようです。

It seems that Mr. Miller is busy.

Example ⑫ indicates an intuitive judgement based on what the speaker has seen of Mr. Miller's condition or behavior, and example ⑬ indicates the speaker's judgement based on what he has read, heard or been told.

3. 声／音／におい／味が します

⑭ 変な 音が しますね。

There's a strange sound, isn't there?

A phenomenon that is perceivable by the senses is described by using ～が します. Expressions in this category are こえが します, においが します, and あじが します. All these expressions mean that these things have been perceived or sensed regardless of the speaker's intention.
